

MISSION PIONEER

Gathering

2017

Phil Smith

Phil Smith was a part time school chaplain when he started a gathering called B.E.L.L.S. The name BELLS is an acronym developed by Michael Frost meaning: BELONGING, EATING LISTENING, LEARNING and SERVING. In June 2014 a group of 27 locals outside Retro's Pizza in Bellvista gathered together, asking what 'church' could be like in a new real estate development. Now about fifty people gather for Sunday dinner and other activities during the week.

Simon and Kaylene Reeves

Simon and Kaylene Reeves have been part of Urban Seed Norlane since 2012. For over 20 years Urban Seed has been gathering around food, recreation and creative art to foster a sense of home – especially for those of us experiencing homelessness, addiction, mental illness and isolation. This gathering is the foundation of our unique community development approach, where we seek to draw out the gifts, skills and potential of all involved.

For people experimenting with ways to be in mission, ways to share the gospel, and birthing new forms of church for 'those who don't do church'.
