

Anne Ramsay's story

An unexpected visit from a very dear, but very anxious niece, brought me a box of goodies at the start of the covid19 lock down.

Opening the box, I found a sweet-smelling candle from my eldest sister and a candle holder from my niece, her youngest daughter.

My niece explained that the candle represented our family – though forced apart by covid19, we are held together by the bonds of love, hope, peace and joy.

Each gift is written on the candle holder in the form of four angels. Each angel has red hair. Coming from a family of 14 red heads, over 3 generations, including my niece, this red headed candle holder is very special. My niece told me that when I am alone and far from our extended family, I should look to the candle and remember that the family is with me.

The fruits of the Spirit Love, Joy, Peace, Hope from a worried young niece in the time of Covid.

Anne attended church when able in the pre Covid time as well as just beginning Table Church with Helen and Mal Rowe. She has been part of the Out and about group. In Covid time she has been live streaming church services and zooming Table Church.
